Light Graffiti Evening with Michael Bosanko

16th December 2014

The Society of Light and Lighting are delighted to introduce an evening of Light Graffiti with light artist, Michael Bosanko! We will be meeting at acdc's London Studio, before making our way to St. John's Church, Hoxton. Michael Bosanko will then be giving a demonstration and with his expert guidance, guests will be able to create their own light graffiti which will be photographed using a slow exposure. Following this, we will be heading back to acdc's London Studio to view the results of your creative endeavours, whilst enjoying pizza and refreshments.

We will be giving further instruction on bringing your own cameras in the run up to the event.

We would like to give thanks to acdc for supporting this event.

This event is free of charge and spaces are limited to we recommend that you book your space early. Booking will be required in order to attend this event. For more information please email, sll@cibse.org
